

Keep the FCC rules that forbid cross-ownership of media – there are already too many media conglomerates. Without FCC protection America will lose its independent voices.